The 1st pic is one of the designs styles you will doing. Tank and bottoms. Exact style is TBD. I also know you will be modeling a sleep gown cut around your boobs so don't hide those

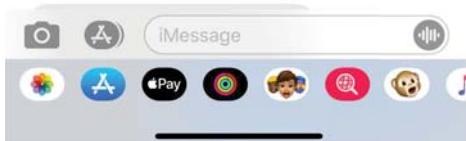

Your legs, hips and chest won the day this week

The black tank is a body suit so I wouldn't have to wear the shorts in it

There is a shorts sleep set we are doing so do include the shorts as one

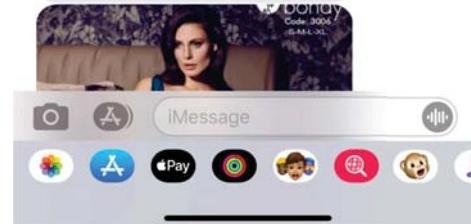

Ok ✓

All those work the shorts may cover to much. Sorry 😊

But send many including those

You will have to do a panty style bottom your cheeks and hips are key. Here is one of the designs being considered for you

Start shooting and don't be frowning if your face is shown

So smile or just straight face

Yes like there website

Their

And be comfortable it's a women's fashion show/ event and these are women's designers. Everyone has seen what you have so own it!

Also until the show happens like I told you before it's all confidential. Brands are very protective

Also you get to keep the wardrobe.

What email do you want me to send the measurement guide?

Alesia wells cheer?

Alesia. My phone is undoing all my typing

If something comes through revealing too much I'll blur it out like we did for your white thong on the cheer photo in Nashville

Hey there you are

That perfect. Loose the top piece add the robe back in and try to capture most of your natural breast. Somehow. You will have to work with it or find another way to do it.

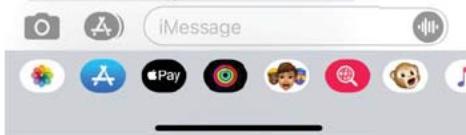

Perfect. Now do the side without the robe but turn away so only the full shape too to bottom is seen. That's the last one.

I know this was probably uncomfortable but that why I talked to you about forgetting that and move forward.

Measurements. Get what you can for now and I'll let you know if they need something else

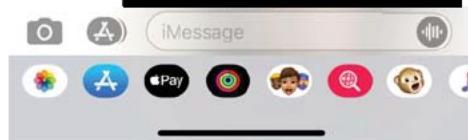

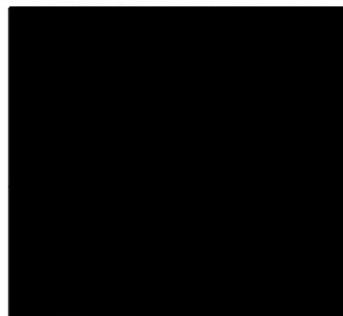

That would be it. These last three were great

Find a way to show your chest without showing your nipples

Then measure what you can on your own or with help tomorrow

And the chest needs a side profile. That may just be at Annandale to show shape and not the nipple.

She just emailed there are 5 spots not 3 still open to be filled. They can all be 1 model or 2 but she said they will max at 3 models

By the way you look great and you should be very proud of the progress. I can see the difference. Beauty match with great curves! You will be a hit and will be 8'tall in NYC with a flowing Blue or Burgundy gown. Plus what ever else they send your way.

So when am I supposed to shoot?

When is a good time to call you tomorrow and discuss the details of what they decide?

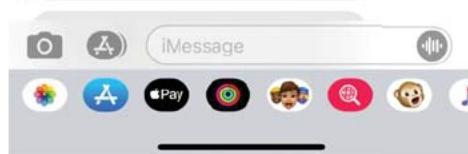

We will probably shoot right after I get back if the alterations are complete.

I return Thursday

There is a wedding Saturday.

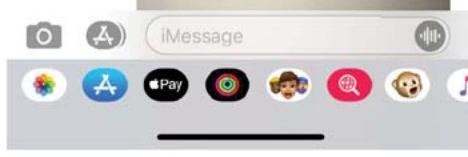

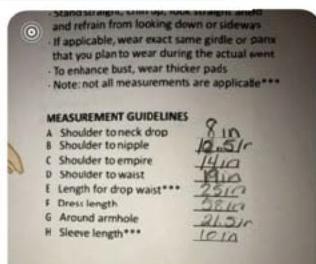

I'm free anytime tomorrow I'm just going to Nashville and should be available all day

I will come to you though so we can work around school. I need to scout locations and studios locally

Also remember the confidentiality. I can't stress that enough. Even to parents. That's why I had your dad leave. They approved sleep And swimwear but it's on you now to tell me what you want to do and are comfortable with but like I said when we met in my office, problems with parents are not the concern of designers and I don't want your parents over judging you or me. I'll make sure you are not in bad situations but it is a modeling business for women.

She said if you are interested in bra and panty sets to let her know. She may be asking about modeling that line. It's up to you but it's one of the 5 walls

They have 5 main lines they are marketing at the curve expo

That's fine with me.

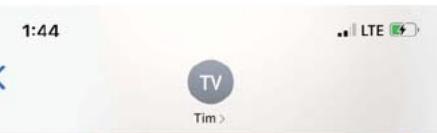

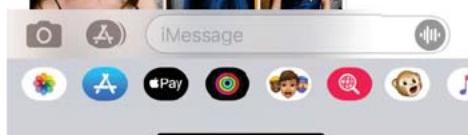

Ok! She will be very happy. Her vision is one model for all 5 walls.

So basically if I get it I'll be taking pictures that will go up at the expo?

Yes at the Javits Center.

Each wall is 8' tall x 12' wide. Each wall will showcase a line

Okay gotcha

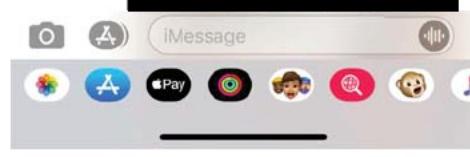

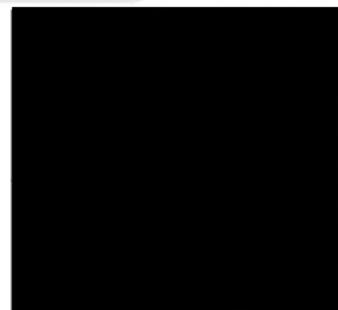

*the

Hate to ask but did you have a bottom thinner and more cheeky? Like seamless? Their intent is that you are nude under the gown and so it's flowing.

Basically she wants to see your butt! Lol

She said everything else Was fine

And I believe that blue design and robe is one of your pieces but possibly a different color

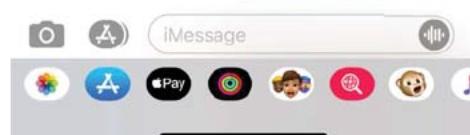

The scrolling banners with same model and line is what is being done this year.

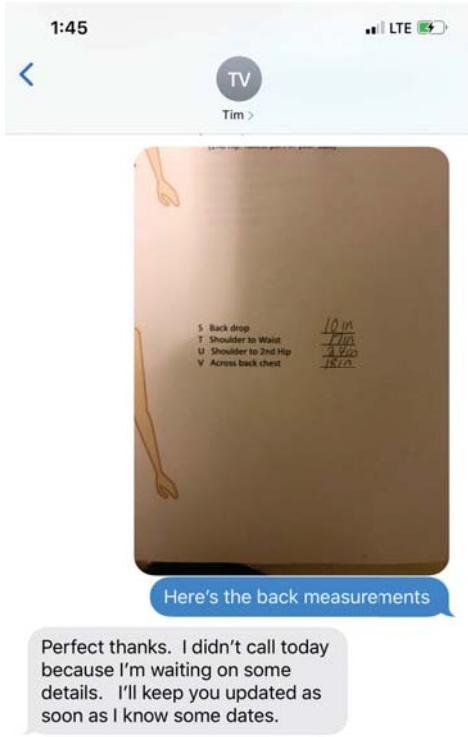

The other banner is on the women tab

I found it on the website

That's everything. We will shoot with probably 20 different wardrobe combinations / changes. I am going to be scouting a high end modern bedroom set somewhere but I have people to Scout that. Get some rest and congrats. You earned it.

Thank you I'm excited!

Perfect thanks. I didn't call today because I'm waiting on some details. I'll keep you updated as soon as I know some dates.

When you have time let me know your school schedule
